

THE MUSKET REPORT – Always on Target!

Enterprise, AL

February, 2001

TO ALL COMPATRIOTS AND FRIENDS

The February meeting of the Wiregrass Chapter will be held at Noon on February 15, 2001 at Po' Folks in Enterprise. Membership certificates will be presented to our two newest members: Louis Kline and David W. Armstrong. Congratulations to both of these gentlemen on the approval of their membership applications. The new chapter president will discuss goals for the upcoming year. With the holiday season over, this is a perfect opportunity to greet old friends and meet new members, while helping plan for the upcoming year.

Condolence

The Wiregrass Chapter extends its deepest sympathy to Compatriot John Whitener on the loss of his wife Anne Lucille in the first week of January 2001, and to Compatriot Bill Tate who lost his wife Edna the second week of the month.

MEMBERSHIP

The chapter roster and dues were submitted to the State Treasurer in the middle of January. Our efforts to recruit new members into the chapter are reflected by the fact that we now have 27 active members. This time last year, our roster reflected only 19 members. Keep up the good work! We know there are other eligible candidates within the area and it is only through the building of a strong membership base than any organization can achieve its objectives. A copy of the chapter roster is enclosed; please verify that both your state and local membership numbers are correct. If you have an e-mail address that is not listed, please forward your cyberspace address to Compatriot John Wallace (johnrx@snowhill.com). This provides an excellent means of communicating with chapter members. At the same time, the chapter has over $800.00 in the treasury, which puts us on sound financial ground for the upcoming year.

BOOKS FOR VETERANS

The chapter plans to continue collecting paperback books for donation to the various veterans' facilities within the state. In January 50 books were delivered to the VA Hospital in Montgomery. We all like to read and it takes very little effort to save some of these books for those individuals who helped defend the freedoms we enjoy today. At the same time, if you provide any type of personal assistance to a veteran i.e. providing transportation to a doctor's appointment, please inform Compatriot John Fuller. The National SAR monitors Veterans activities, and this time is reported.

STATE CONVENTION

This year's ALSSAR State Convention will be held at Lake Guntersville State Park the 23rd & 24th of February. Full registration details are to be published in the State Society Newsletter. However, if you plan to attend, you should call the State Park at 1-800-548-4553 to reserve a room ASAP. Mention you are with SAR, as two other groups are meeting at the same time. Rooms are about $61.00/night. Total registration costs will be $46.00, which includes the Banquet on Saturday night. NSSAR Secretary General Larry McClanahan will be the speaker.

DID YOU KNOW?

The US postal service recently issued a stamp commemorating the 200th anniversary of the White House. The history of the White House, and the history of the nation's capital, began when President George Washington signed an Act of Congress in December of 1790 declaring that the federal government would reside in a district "not exceeding ten miles square...on the river Potomac." President Washington, together with city planner Pierre L'Enfant, chose the site for the new residence, while James Hoban designed and directed the building of the White House in neoclassical style. Construction began when the first cornerstone was laid in October of 1792. Although President Washington oversaw the construction of the house, he never lived in it. It was not until 1800, when the White House was nearly completed, that its first residents, President John Adams and his wife, Abigail, took up occupancy. When they moved in, it was located near a swamp and was anything but ready. Half the buildings lacked plaster, only one of the three staircases was built, and scaffolds still lay against basement walls. Thomas Jefferson held the first Inaugural open house in 1805. Many of those who attended the swearing-in ceremony at the U.S. Capitol simply followed him home, where he greeted them in the Blue Room. President Jefferson also opened the house for public tours, and it has remained open, except during wartime, ever since. In 1814, the British military burned the White House during the War of 1812, along with the Capitol. President James Monroe moved into the reconstructed White House in 1817. In 1829, a horde of 20,000 Inaugural callers forced President Andrew Jackson to flee to the safety of a hotel while, on the lawn, aides filled washtubs with orange juice and whiskey to lure the mob out of the mud-tracked White House. After Abraham Lincoln's presidency, Inaugural crowds became far too large for the White House to accommodate them comfortably. However, not until Grover Cleveland's first presidency did this unsafe practice change. He held a presidential review of the troops from a flag-draped grandstand built in front of the White House. This procession evolved into the official Inaugural parade we know today. Throughout much of Harry S. Truman's presidency, the interior of the house, with the exception of the third floor, was completely gutted and renovated. Nonetheless, the exterior stonewalls are those first put in place when the White House was constructed two centuries ago. At various times in history, the White House has been known as the "President's Palace," the "President's House", and the "Executive Mansion". President Theodore Roosevelt officially gave the White House its current name in 1901.

Today there are 132 rooms, 32 bathrooms, and 6 levels to accommodate all the people who live in, work in, and visit the White House. There are also 412 doors, 147 windows, 28 fireplaces, 7 staircases, and 3 elevators. With five full-time chefs, the White House kitchen is able to serve dinner to as many as 140 guests and hors d'oeuvres to more than 1,000. For recreation, the White House has a variety of facilities available to its residents, including a tennis court, a jogging track, swimming pool, movie theater, billiard room, and a bowling lane. The White House requires 570 gallons of paint to cover its outside surface.

On the 20th of January this year, the White House saw a new resident – George W. Bush, 43rd President of the United States.

<http://www.whitehouse.gov/WH/glimpse/top.html>http://www.shfwire.com/story.phtml?action=show_story&id=189

John R. Wallace - President
334 347-0661
johnrx@snowhill.com

THE MUSKET REPORT – Always on Target!

Enterprise, AL

February, 2001

TO ALL COMPATRIOTS AND FRIENDS

The February meeting of the Wiregrass Chapter will be held at Noon on February 15, 2001 at Po' Folks in Enterprise. Membership certificates will be presented to our two newest members: Louis Kline and David W. Armstrong. Congratulations to both of these gentlemen on the approval of their membership applications. The new chapter president will discuss goals for the upcoming year. With the holiday season over, this is a perfect opportunity to greet old friends and meet new members, while helping plan for the upcoming year.

Condolence

The Wiregrass Chapter extends its deepest sympathy to Compatriot John Whitener on the loss of his wife Anne Lucille in the first week of January 2001, and to Compatriot Bill Tate who lost his wife Edna the second week of the month.

MEMBERSHIP

The chapter roster and dues were submitted to the State Treasurer in the middle of January. Our efforts to recruit new members into the chapter are reflected by the fact that we now have 27 active members. This time last year, our roster reflected only 19 members. Keep up the good work! We know there are other eligible candidates within the area and it is only through the building of a strong membership base than any organization can achieve its objectives. A copy of the chapter roster is enclosed; please verify that both your state and local membership numbers are correct. If you have an e-mail address that is not listed, please forward your cyberspace address to Compatriot John Wallace (johnrx@snowhill.com). This provides an excellent means of communicating with chapter members. At the same time, the chapter has over $800.00 in the treasury, which puts us on sound financial ground for the upcoming year.

BOOKS FOR VETERANS

The chapter plans to continue collecting paperback books for donation to the various veterans' facilities within the state. In January 50 books were delivered to the VA Hospital in Montgomery. We all like to read and it takes very little effort to save some of these books for those individuals who helped defend the freedoms we enjoy today. At the same time, if you provide any type of personal assistance to a veteran i.e. providing transportation to a doctor's appointment, please inform Compatriot John Fuller. The National SAR monitors Veterans activities, and this time is reported.

STATE CONVENTION

This year's ALSSAR State Convention will be held at Lake Guntersville State Park the 23rd & 24th of February. Full registration details are to be published in the State Society Newsletter. However, if you plan to attend, you should call the State Park at 1-800-548-4553 to reserve a room ASAP. Mention you are with SAR, as two other groups are meeting at the same time. Rooms are about $61.00/night. Total registration costs will be $46.00, which includes the Banquet on Saturday night. NSSAR Secretary General Larry McClanahan will be the speaker.

DID YOU KNOW?

The US postal service recently issued a stamp commemorating the 200th anniversary of the White House. The history of the White House, and the history of the nation's capital, began when President George Washington signed an Act of Congress in December of 1790 declaring that the federal government would reside in a district "not exceeding ten miles square...on the river Potomac." President Washington, together with city planner Pierre L'Enfant, chose the site for the new residence, while James Hoban designed and directed the building of the White House in neoclassical style. Construction began when the first cornerstone was laid in October of 1792. Although President Washington oversaw the construction of the house, he never lived in it. It was not until 1800, when the White House was nearly completed, that its first residents, President John Adams and his wife, Abigail, took up occupancy. When they moved in, it was located near a swamp and was anything but ready. Half the buildings lacked plaster, only one of the three staircases was built, and scaffolds still lay against basement walls. Thomas Jefferson held the first Inaugural open house in 1805. Many of those who attended the swearing-in ceremony at the U.S. Capitol simply followed him home, where he greeted them in the Blue Room. President Jefferson also opened the house for public tours, and it has remained open, except during wartime, ever since. In 1814, the British military burned the White House during the War of 1812, along with the Capitol. President James Monroe moved into the reconstructed White House in 1817. In 1829, a horde of 20,000 Inaugural callers forced President Andrew Jackson to flee to the safety of a hotel while, on the lawn, aides filled washtubs with orange juice and whiskey to lure the mob out of the mud-tracked White House. After Abraham Lincoln's presidency, Inaugural crowds became far too large for the White House to accommodate them comfortably. However, not until Grover Cleveland's first presidency did this unsafe practice change. He held a presidential review of the troops from a flag-draped grandstand built in front of the White House. This procession evolved into the official Inaugural parade we know today. Throughout much of Harry S. Truman's presidency, the interior of the house, with the exception of the third floor, was completely gutted and renovated. Nonetheless, the exterior stonewalls are those first put in place when the White House was constructed two centuries ago. At various times in history, the White House has been known as the "President's Palace," the "President's House", and the "Executive Mansion". President Theodore Roosevelt officially gave the White House its current name in 1901.

Today there are 132 rooms, 32 bathrooms, and 6 levels to accommodate all the people who live in, work in, and visit the White House. There are also 412 doors, 147 windows, 28 fireplaces, 7 staircases, and 3 elevators. With five full-time chefs, the White House kitchen is able to serve dinner to as many as 140 guests and hors d'oeuvres to more than 1,000. For recreation, the White House has a variety of facilities available to its residents, including a tennis court, a jogging track, swimming pool, movie theater, billiard room, and a bowling lane. The White House requires 570 gallons of paint to cover its outside surface.

On the 20th of January this year, the White House saw a new resident – George W. Bush, 43rd President of the United States.

<http://www.whitehouse.gov/WH/glimpse/top.html>http://www.shfwire.com/story.phtml?action=show_story&id=189

John R. Wallace - President
334 347-0661
johnrx@snowhill.com

THE MUSKET REPORT – Always on Target!

Enterprise, AL

February, 2001

TO ALL COMPATRIOTS AND FRIENDS

The February meeting of the Wiregrass Chapter will be held at Noon on February 15, 2001 at Po' Folks in Enterprise. Membership certificates will be presented to our two newest members: Louis Kline and David W. Armstrong. Congratulations to both of these gentlemen on the approval of their membership applications. The new chapter president will discuss goals for the upcoming year. With the holiday season over, this is a perfect opportunity to greet old friends and meet new members, while helping plan for the upcoming year.

Condolence

The Wiregrass Chapter extends its deepest sympathy to Compatriot John Whitener on the loss of his wife Anne Lucille in the first week of January 2001, and to Compatriot Bill Tate who lost his wife Edna the second week of the month.

MEMBERSHIP

The chapter roster and dues were submitted to the State Treasurer in the middle of January. Our efforts to recruit new members into the chapter are reflected by the fact that we now have 27 active members. This time last year, our roster reflected only 19 members. Keep up the good work! We know there are other eligible candidates within the area and it is only through the building of a strong membership base than any organization can achieve its objectives. A copy of the chapter roster is enclosed; please verify that both your state and local membership numbers are correct. If you have an e-mail address that is not listed, please forward your cyberspace address to Compatriot John Wallace (johnrx@snowhill.com). This provides an excellent means of communicating with chapter members. At the same time, the chapter has over $800.00 in the treasury, which puts us on sound financial ground for the upcoming year.

BOOKS FOR VETERANS

The chapter plans to continue collecting paperback books for donation to the various veterans' facilities within the state. In January 50 books were delivered to the VA Hospital in Montgomery. We all like to read and it takes very little effort to save some of these books for those individuals who helped defend the freedoms we enjoy today. At the same time, if you provide any type of personal assistance to a veteran i.e. providing transportation to a doctor's appointment, please inform Compatriot John Fuller. The National SAR monitors Veterans activities, and this time is reported.

STATE CONVENTION

This year's ALSSAR State Convention will be held at Lake Guntersville State Park the 23rd & 24th of February. Full registration details are to be published in the State Society Newsletter. However, if you plan to attend, you should call the State Park at 1-800-548-4553 to reserve a room ASAP. Mention you are with SAR, as two other groups are meeting at the same time. Rooms are about $61.00/night. Total registration costs will be $46.00, which includes the Banquet on Saturday night. NSSAR Secretary General Larry McClanahan will be the speaker.

DID YOU KNOW?

The US postal service recently issued a stamp commemorating the 200th anniversary of the White House. The history of the White House, and the history of the nation's capital, began when President George Washington signed an Act of Congress in December of 1790 declaring that the federal government would reside in a district "not exceeding ten miles square...on the river Potomac." President Washington, together with city planner Pierre L'Enfant, chose the site for the new residence, while James Hoban designed and directed the building of the White House in neoclassical style. Construction began when the first cornerstone was laid in October of 1792. Although President Washington oversaw the construction of the house, he never lived in it. It was not until 1800, when the White House was nearly completed, that its first residents, President John Adams and his wife, Abigail, took up occupancy. When they moved in, it was located near a swamp and was anything but ready. Half the buildings lacked plaster, only one of the three staircases was built, and scaffolds still lay against basement walls. Thomas Jefferson held the first Inaugural open house in 1805. Many of those who attended the swearing-in ceremony at the U.S. Capitol simply followed him home, where he greeted them in the Blue Room. President Jefferson also opened the house for public tours, and it has remained open, except during wartime, ever since. In 1814, the British military burned the White House during the War of 1812, along with the Capitol. President James Monroe moved into the reconstructed White House in 1817. In 1829, a horde of 20,000 Inaugural callers forced President Andrew Jackson to flee to the safety of a hotel while, on the lawn, aides filled washtubs with orange juice and whiskey to lure the mob out of the mud-tracked White House. After Abraham Lincoln's presidency, Inaugural crowds became far too large for the White House to accommodate them comfortably. However, not until Grover Cleveland's first presidency did this unsafe practice change. He held a presidential review of the troops from a flag-draped grandstand built in front of the White House. This procession evolved into the official Inaugural parade we know today. Throughout much of Harry S. Truman's presidency, the interior of the house, with the exception of the third floor, was completely gutted and renovated. Nonetheless, the exterior stonewalls are those first put in place when the White House was constructed two centuries ago. At various times in history, the White House has been known as the "President's Palace," the "President's House", and the "Executive Mansion". President Theodore Roosevelt officially gave the White House its current name in 1901.

Today there are 132 rooms, 32 bathrooms, and 6 levels to accommodate all the people who live in, work in, and visit the White House. There are also 412 doors, 147 windows, 28 fireplaces, 7 staircases, and 3 elevators. With five full-time chefs, the White House kitchen is able to serve dinner to as many as 140 guests and hors d'oeuvres to more than 1,000. For recreation, the White House has a variety of facilities available to its residents, including a tennis court, a jogging track, swimming pool, movie theater, billiard room, and a bowling lane. The White House requires 570 gallons of paint to cover its outside surface.

On the 20th of January this year, the White House saw a new resident – George W. Bush, 43rd President of the United States.

<http://www.whitehouse.gov/WH/glimpse/top.html>
http://www.shfwire.com/story.phtml?action=show_story&id=189

John R. Wallace - President
334 347-0661
johnrx@snowhill.com